New hp wide format scanner launched by ArtSystems

ArtSystems has expanded its range of hp solutions by introducing the new hp designjet scanner 4200.

It fits neatly and proficiently into any imaging workflow, complementing the wide range of printers and media already supplied by ArtSystems.

The 42" scanner can accept originals up to 0.6" thick and scans at speeds up to 1.5" per second in colour and 3" per second in black and white. The hp scanning software allows users to scan, copy and print using the in-built touch screen PC and keyboard.

The network card allows scan-to-network, and files can also be archived to the on-board CD writer in popular file formats such as PDF, TIFF and JPEG.

Completing the hp workflow, users can scan-to-print to the hp designjet 500, 800 and 5000 series printers. The colour calibration between the hp scanning system and the hp printer ensures consistency between originals and copies.

Ted Freer, Business Development Manager at the trade only distributor said: "The hp designjet 4200 perfectly complements our existing wide format scanner range and our hp product portfolio. We can now offer our resellers a complete hp wide format imaging package from image capture and processing through to final printed output. As a systems integrator specialising in wide format hp solutions, this is a perfect addition to our product offering."

Other features of the hp designjet scanner 4200 include:

- Scan resolution of 424 ppi optical and 2400 ppi enhanced
- 0.15% line accuracy
- colour correction and 2D filters for colour sharpening, image softening and blur capabilities
- scan technology includes double tri-linear CCDs and 36 bits of data capture
